To the student

Grammar Practice for Intermediate Students gives short, clear explanations of all the main areas of English grammar, and provides practice exercises for you to do. There are two ways in which this book can be used;

- (i) in class with help from your teacher;
- (ii) at home by yourself.

If you are using the book by yourself, use the Index and the Contents list to find the areas that you want to study, read the grammatical explanation, and then do the exercise. To check your answers you will need to use the edition of Grammar Practice for Intermediate Students with Answer key.

We hope that Grammar Practice for Intermediate Students helps you to improve your English.

3 a, the, or no article

Practice

Circle the correct answer.

I could tell by (a/the/-) town hall clock that I was late, so I decided to catch (a/-) bus. It was (a/the/-) beautiful day; (a/the/-) sun was shining and there was (the/-) very little wind. I turned (the/-) corner, and walked down (a/the/-) main street.

(A/the/-) couple of minutes later, I heard (a/the/-) noise, and (a/the/-) man wearing (a/the/-) grey leather jacket ran past me. At first, I thought he was trying to catch (the/-) bus which was waiting at (the/-) bus stop, but then (a/the/-) policeman appeared, running at (a/-) some speed. He was obviously chasing (a/the/-) man in (a/the/-) leather jacket, and he was joined by another policeman, who was talking rapidly into (a/the/-) hand-held radio.

All three disappeared into (a/-) crowd of people, my bus arrived, and I got on. As (a/the/-) bus drove down (the/-) road, I saw (a/the/-) man again, walking casually through (a/the/-) crowd with his (the /-) coat over his shoulder. I could also see (a/the/-) second policeman, still talking into his radio. He was describing (a/-) man who no longer existed, (a/-) man wearing a jacket and running furiously: while (a/the/-) real criminal (if he was (a/-) criminal) walked slowly and casually into the station.

4 Possessives with 's, s' and of

- To indicate possession for people or animals:
 - a) add 's to singular nouns, and to plural nouns not ending in s:

10 Verbs using Present Simple rather than Present Continuous

USE

- Certain verbs generally use only the simple form, and are not used with the continuous. These are verbs which do not describe activities. They include:
 - a) verbs of thinking and understanding:
 - I believe you.*
 - I don't understand.*
 - What do you think?*
 - b) verbs of seeing, hearing, feeling, etc.:
 - I don't like him.*
 - How do you feel?*
 - I want to go.*
 - These verbs can use the present continuous when they become activity verbs:
 - Be quiet, please: I'm thinking.* (Here thinking is an activity, like working.)
 - I'm seeing the president tomorrow.* (seeing = meeting)
 - There is a difference between these verbs:
 - listen – hear; watch – see; look – see
 - Listen, watch and look are deliberate activities, and can use the present continuous:
 - I'm listening to the radio.*
 - Hear and see are not deliberate activities, and do not usually use the continuous.
- Exercise 66 for an explanation of simple and continuous aspects.

Practice

Circle the correct form of the verb in these sentences.

- 1 You're very quiet. What (do you think / are you thinking) about?

13 Past continuous as narrative

The past continuous is often used in a past simple narrative to describe the background history or environment:

It was a typical summer afternoon: the sun was beating down, the cars were creeping slowly round the corner of the park. Five or six children were playing in the stream by the fountain, jumping in and out of the water, their laughter mixing with the noise of the traffic. All the world was wearing shorts and T-shirts, or bathing costumes: yet Walter Harrison, sitting on a park bench in his overcoat, was feeling cold and lonely. 'Where will it all end?' he thought, as he watched the children splashing and laughing. After a few minutes, he got up and walked through the park gates. His adventure was about to begin ...

Practice

In your notebook, write the verbs in this story in the past simple or past continuous. Sometimes both tenses are possible. Choose the one that is most likely.

He stopped just before putting his key in the front door. Something was happening in the back garden. Quietly, he crept around the side of the house and ¹(look) through the gate. Two men ²(stand) at the back of the house, holding a ladder. A third man was at the top of the ladder, and a fourth inside the house: he ³(pass) furniture through the window to his partner, who ⁴(give) it to his friends below. All four ⁵(work) quietly and efficiently, and the pile of furniture in the garden ⁶(get) bigger by the minute. Derek ⁷(can not) believe his eyes: the team of strangers ⁸(empty) his entire flat, and they ⁹(behave) as if this was the most normal thing in the world! He ¹⁰(cough) loudly, and then ¹¹(say) 'Excuse me!' – and the man at the top of the ladder ¹²(drop) his portable TV onto the concrete below.

14 Present Perfect

FORM

has/have + past participle

REMEMBER!

I/You/We/They have ('ve) finished.

He/She/It has ('s) finished.

Have I/we/you/they finished?

Has he/she/it finished?

I/We/You/They have not (haven't) finished.

He/She/It has not (hasn't) finished.

USE

The present perfect is used to show a connection in the speaker's mind between the past and the present. This occurs in two main ways.

a) the unfinished past:

He's been here for 10 minutes. (and he is still here now)

We've lived here since 1996. (and we still live here now)

I've written three letters today.

She's travelled to six countries since she started the job.

b) the indefinite past:

I've broken a glass.

John has lost his job.

I've just heard the news.

Have you finished that report yet?

Have you ever been to China?

She's never flown in a plane.

She's the best teacher I've ever had.

Practice

Choose the correct response from the following page.

- 1 Do you know your neighbours well?
- 2 I'd like to speak to Mr Jones, please.
- 3 You look tired.
- 4 What's the matter?
- 5 Shall we cycle into town?
- 6 Have you ever been to London?
- 7 You're looking very happy.
- 8 Can't you go a little bit faster?
- 9 Do you like skiing?
- 10 Why don't you come out with us tonight?
- 11 We ought to book our flight.
- 12 What do you think of my essay?
- 13 Do you know where Sarah is?

- 14 Did you enjoy New Zealand?
- 15 Why isn't Andrew at work today?
- a) I'm afraid I can't. Isabel's borrowed my bike for the weekend.
- b) No. I haven't seen her since she went out this morning.
- c) I'm sorry. He's just left the office.
- d) He's hurt his back so he's gone to see the doctor.
- e) I've been out every night this week and I'm exhausted.
- f) Yes. It's the most beautiful country I've ever been to.
- g) That's because we've walked 30 kilometres today.
- h) Don't worry. I've already done it.
- i) I'm sorry. This is the first time I've driven this car.
- j) I don't know. I haven't read it yet.
- k) Yes. I've just heard that I've passed my exams.
- l) I've never tried it.
- m) No, I haven't. Have you?
- n) Yes. They've lived here for ten years.
- o) I've cut my finger.

15 Past Simple and Present Perfect

Practice

In your notebook, write the story, putting the verbs in brackets into the present perfect or past simple. If two answers are possible, write the more likely one.

Ann Jones is one of the most interesting people I ¹(meet): she is only twenty-five, but she ²(travel) to over fifty different countries. Five years ago, she ³(be) a typist in Birmingham, but she ⁴(decide) to give up her job and see the world. Since then, her life ⁵(change) completely.

The first time she ⁶(go) abroad was seven years ago, when she ⁷(be) just eighteen. She ⁸(take) a boat to France and then ⁹(hitch-hike) around Europe for five weeks. She ¹⁰(visit) Europe many times since that first trip, of course, but this holiday ¹¹(be) the one which ¹²(make) her start travelling. She ¹³(never forget) the excitement of those five weeks – although it ¹⁴(be) not all enjoyable. When she ¹⁵(be) on a train, somebody ¹⁶(steal) her purse: she ¹⁷(lose) all her money, and ¹⁸(have) to work in a restaurant for a fortnight. She ¹⁹(make) some good friends there, however, and ²⁰(return) several times since then.

How did she find the money for her travels? After her first trip abroad, she ²¹(go) home and ²²(work) for two years, saving all the time. Now she travels continually, finding work when her money gets low. She ²³(make) a lot of friends, she says, and ²⁴(learn) quite a few languages. Although she ²⁵(have) occasional difficulties and ²⁶(often be) sick, she ²⁷(never think) about giving up her travels. 'The first time I ²⁸(go) abroad ²⁹(change) my life,' she says, 'and I ³⁰(want) to travel ever since.'

16 Present Perfect Continuous

FORM

has/have + been + verb -ing

CONTRAST with present perfect simple

- The present perfect simple is used when the action is complete and the final achievement is important:
I've run six kilometres.
(NOT ~~I've been running six kilometres.~~)
- The present perfect continuous is used when the activity is important. We are interested in how someone has been spending time, and the achievement is not important:
I've been running. (NOT ~~I've run.~~)

Practice

In your notebook, write the dialogue, putting the verbs into the present perfect simple or continuous as necessary.

JULIA: Gosh, it ¹(be) busy this morning, hasn't it?

PAT: Yes, you look exhausted. What ²(you do)?

JULIA: I ³(not stop) all morning. I ⁴(write) letters, ⁵(answer) the phone, ⁶(do) the filing ... it ⁷(be) impossible!

PAT: It ⁸(be) the same for me. My phone ⁹(ring) all morning, I ¹⁰(write) five letters ... and I ¹¹(interview) three people for that secretarial job.

JULIA: Have you? Oh, I ¹²(interview) one as well. And I ¹³(send) off another ten application forms to people who want them. It seems to be very popular.

PAT: It does, doesn't it? I can't think why. Four people ¹⁴(phone) me about it this morning.

JULIA: Have they? Oh, and I ¹⁵(look) through that letter, you know, the one the managing director sent to all the staff ...

PAT: Oh, yes, I ¹⁶(already read) that. Not very interesting, is it?

JULIA: No ... I think I ¹⁷(read) it all before ...

17 Past Perfect

FORM

had/'d + past participle

USE

- To describe the first of two events in the past:
I had spoken to Mr Johnson before the meeting began.

- To describe a period of time leading up to a time in the past:
By 1984, we had waited seven years for an answer.

Note the difference between past simple + past simple:
I got to the stadium at 7.15, and the game started at 7.30.
(= the game started after I arrived) and past simple + past perfect:
I got to the stadium at 7.45, and the game had started at 7.30.
(= the game started before I arrived)

Practice

Write the sentences, putting one verb in each sentence into the past simple, and the other verb into the past perfect.

- When the police (arrive), the car (go).
When the police arrived, the car had gone.
- When I (get) to the shop, it (close).
- They (eat) everything by the time I (arrive) at the party.

18 Past Perfect Continuous

FORM

had/'d + been + verb-ing

USE

- As present perfect continuous, but changed because it occurs in a past narrative:
She's been working all night. → When I got there, she had been working all night.
They've been living there for years. → They didn't like the house, even though they had been living there for years.
She's been reading for hours. → There were books everywhere: she had been reading for hours.

Practice

This is part of a newspaper story written in 1990. Rewrite it in your notebook, putting the verbs into the past perfect or past simple. Start your story with the words:

By 1999, Mr and Mrs Charlton had been living in Portland Street for ...

Mr and Mrs Charlton have been living in Portland Street for five years. They have tried to move several times, but this has not been possible, as they are unable to sell their house. Several people have looked at the property, but quickly lost interest – and the reason for this is obvious. For three years the garden of 17 Portland Street has been covered by three feet of water. The Charltons tried to find the reason for this strange occurrence, but no one has been able to help. The water level has been rising since 1996, and has damaged the whole of the ground floor. The Charltons have been keeping the water back with sandbags, but of course this is only a temporary defence. Mrs Charlton says she has contacted the water authorities, the town council, even her local MP, but no one has been able to explain why their back garden has become a swimming pool for all the children in the neighbourhood.

THE FUTURE

20 Present Continuous, going to, and Future Simple

REMEMBER!

USE

Present continuous as future

- A planned future action:
I'm seeing Jessica tonight.

'Going to' future

- Planned future events:
They're going to open the new offices on 1st March.
- Future events evident from something in the present:
Look at the snow. It's going to be difficult to get into work tomorrow.
- Future events in a neutral way:
Richard's going to be the new director.

Future Simple

- Statements of future fact:
The job will be finished by the weekend.

USE

- To describe an action or event that will be in progress at some time in the future:

I'll be waiting at the station when you arrive.

I'll be watching football at six.

- To describe an activity or state that covers the whole of a future time period:

I'll be watching television all evening.

I'll be living in London for the next few weeks.

- To describe a future event which has already been arranged or is part of a regular routine.

I'll be seeing him tomorrow – I'll give him your note.

I'll be working at home tomorrow – you can call me there.

Notes

- going to* or present continuous + time word can frequently be used instead of the future continuous. The main difference between the three is that going to and present continuous + time word usually refer to planned or intentional futures:

I'm going to see her tomorrow – we arranged it last week.

I'm seeing her tomorrow, to talk about the new contract.

and the future continuous is less intentional:

I'll be seeing her tomorrow at the weekly sales conference: I'll talk to her about it then.

- Future continuous is sometimes used to refer to the present, when we are guessing about what people are doing:

Peter and Tom will be lying on the beach in Corfu at the moment

I bet they'll be having a good time now that it's hot.

They'll probably be staying at an expensive hotel somewhere.

Practice

Write the verbs below as future continuous or future simple.

- 1 I 'll be seeing (see) them tomorrow – I 'll tell (tell) them what you said.
- 2 Will you be working (you work) all tomorrow evening?
- 3 She (stay) in Leeds all weekend.
- 4 She (visit) our office next week – I

USE

- Simple - to look ahead to a time in the future when:
 - a) an expected event or activity will be in the past:
I'll have finished work by five o'clock tonight.
 - b) a duration of time will be in the past:
I'll have been here for a year in January.

- Continuous
 - a) with for, to describe a period of time which precedes a point in the future.
We'll have been living here for two years in July.
(This can also be future perfect simple - see b) above)
 - b) to describe an activity which leads up to a point in the future:
I'll be dirty because I'll have been playing football.

Practice

Write the verbs below in the future perfect simple or continuous. If two answers are possible, write the answer which you think is best for the sentences.

- 1 They'll probably be hungry because they won't have eaten. (not eaten)
- 2 I'll be tired tonight because I ll have been working all day. (work)

- 13 When they've talked to me, the police everybody in the office. (question)
- 14 She a member of the committee for twenty-five years by the time she retires. (be)

Check

Write the following sentences in the correct form (present simple, future continuous, future perfect simple or future perfect continuous). If more than one answer is possible, write the most likely once.

- 1 Next November we 'll have been married for fifteen years. (be)
- 2 What time does the train leave? (train leave)
- 3 Just think! This time next week we on the beach! (lie)

- 4 I at the airport when your plane lands. (wait)
- 5 In two weeks' time she her exams. (finish)
- 6 Brian at the meeting? (you see)
- 7 At ten o'clock I for sixteen hours. (drive)
- 8 Hurry up! The lecture in five minutes. (start)
- 9 By the end of the week we ten applicants for the job. (interview)
- 10 Next time I write to you I in Australia. (live)

25 Future in the past

FORM

was/were going to + infinitive
I was going to leave early, but I didn't.

USE

- to describe a planned action that did not happen:
I was going to visit my parents yesterday, but my car broke down.
He was going to say something, but changed his mind.
They were going to stay in the Grand Hotel, but it was full – so they stayed with us instead.

Practice

The first column describes what Jan planned to do: the second describes what actually happened. In your notebook, write how he describes his life, using one sentence for each number. Add the conjunctions and, so, but, where necessary.

Plan

- 1 Go to university.
- 2 Find a job in Madrid.
- 3 Study English in London.
- 4 Stay with an English family.
- 5 Study English for two years.
- 6 Work in England when I finish school.
- 7 Not going to work in my parents' restaurant.

Reality

- 1 Failed exams. Left school at sixteen.
- 2 No jobs. Decided to go to England to study English.
- 3 Didn't like London. Went to Cambridge instead.
- 4 Changed my mind. Stayed in a student hostel.
- 5 Didn't have enough money. Finished after eighteen months.
- 6 Couldn't find a job. Came back to Madrid.
- 7 Needed the money. I did.

Example: 1 I was going to go to university, but I failed my exams, so I left school at sixteen.

10	Future Continuous	they/work/ tomorrow
11	Future Perfect Simple	they/leave/ by tomorrow
12	Future Perfect Continuous	they/work/ all day

27 Simple and continuous aspects

The tense of a verb tells us that it is present, past, or future; the aspect gives us other information. There are three aspects – simple, continuous, and perfect. The simple aspect refers to the whole of an activity or event, and not just part of it:

I'll have a bath tonight. (future simple)

I worked from eight o'clock to ten o'clock. (past simple)

I go to the office by car. (present simple)

It is used to describe:

- a general truth:
Big cars use a lot of petrol.
- a complete event or series of events:
We went to Spain for our holiday.
- a repeated, habitual action:
Classes start at nine o'clock.
- feelings, perceptions, etc. – i.e. any verb that is not an 'activity' verb:
I understood the lecture quite well.

The continuous aspect describes an event (or series of events) at some point between its beginning and its end. It is used with activity verbs – e.g. play, run, walk, go, move, drive, etc. – and it is the activity which is important, rather than the end result:

They're working at the moment. (present continuous)

I was reading when you phoned. (past continuous)

At this time tomorrow we'll be saying goodbye. (future continuous)

It is used to describe:

- an activity in progress:
I was working in the garden when she called.
- a repeated action which is temporary, and viewed at some time between the beginning and end of the temporary period:
I'm cycling to work this week because my car's in the garage.
- a temporary situation viewed at some point between its beginning and its end:
I'm living in London at the moment.

Practice

Choose between the simple and continuous aspects in the following sentences. If two answers are possible, write them both. Do this exercise in your notebook:

- 1 'Where's Stella?'
'She (play) tennis in the park.' (present)
'She's playing tennis in the park.'
- 2 They (go) abroad three times last year. (past)
- 3 I (see) you outside the cinema at eight o'clock. (future)
- 4 The telephone (ring) but I (watch) my favourite programme so I (not answer) it. (past)
- 5 Simon (work) really hard for his exams next month. (present)
- 6 He (live) away from home when he starts college. (future)
- 7 Cats (not like) water. (present)
- 8 I (not understand) what she (mean) at first, but then she (explain) more clearly. (past)
- 9 I think I (make) a cup of tea. (future)
- 10 The bottle (roll) off the table and (smash) when it (hit) the floor. (past)
- 11 I (call) at the office but they (all work) so I (not stay) long. (past)
- 12 I (see) my parents tonight so I (give) them your message then. (future)
- 13 I (not understand) a single word he (say). (present)
- 14 Five or six people (wait) to see Mrs Blackstone. (present)
- 15 The bottle (roll) off the table, but I (catch) it before it (go) over the edge. (past)

28 Perfect aspect

The perfect aspect can be either simple or continuous. It tells us:

- that the activity or state being discussed occurs or starts before a certain point in time: and
- that the activity or state has an important connection with that later point in time:

I have been to France twice. (present perfect: the events occurred before the present time – now)

It was 1946. The war had finished and Jack had left the army. (past perfect: the events occurred before the past time – 1946)

Come tomorrow at 7.30. I'll have had dinner by then. (future perfect: dinner will occur before a future time – tomorrow at 7.30)

Practice

In your notebook, write the sentences below, putting the verbs into the present perfect, past perfect or future perfect, and using the simple or continuous forms.

- 1 (You see) that film yet?
Have you seen that film yet?
- 2 I (write) letters all day, and I'm tired.
I've been writing letters all day, and I'm tired.
- 3 I (not play) football since I was at school.
- 4 How long (you wait) to see the doctor?
- 5 They (talk) but they stopped when I came into the room.
- 6 By the end of this month, I (work) here for ten years.
- 7 When I arrived, the party (finish).
- 8 We've got two more hours. We (do) all the housework by the time your parents arrive.
- 9 I (read) that book for two months but I (not finish) it yet.
- 10 They (wait) for me for two hours when I finally arrived.
- 11 We (know) each other since we were at school together.
- 12 They (try) to solve the problem for some time now.
- 13 The machines (work) continuously for two years when they get their first service next month.
- 14 We (work) on the car for two hours before it finally started.
- 15 By tomorrow, they (get) permission to have the meeting at the town hall, I'm sure.
- 16 (anyone arrive) when you got to the office?
- 17 She looks very tired – I think she (do) too much overtime.
- 18 I (not see) her for the last five years.
- 19 (You say) goodnight to the children yet?
- 20 When I got there, I could see that they (not expect) me.

VERB FORMATIONS

29 Irregular verbs

Practice

29a Write the missing words for these irregular verbs.

Infinitive	Past Simple	Past Participle	Infinitive	Past Simple	Past Participle

30 Verbs taking gerund, infinitive, or indirect speech

- Some verbs are followed by the infinitive:
She advised me to go.
- Some verbs use the gerund:
I like driving.
- Some verbs use indirect speech:
They complained that they had been waiting for hours.
- Certain verbs can use all three.
We agreed to go.
We agreed that we should go.
We agreed about going.

Note: Exercise 30c combines the answers from 30a and 30b in a table. Both exercises show constructions commonly following the verbs given; sometimes the verb is followed by more than one construction. Phrasal verbs (e.g. ask after, finish off, etc.) are not included, neither are less common constructions or prepositions.

Practice

30a Make sentences using the constructions given. Put the verbs into the past simple tense.

Note: seem can be followed by that when used with it:
It seems that they aren't coming.

THE PASSIVE

31 The passive: Present Simple, Past Simple, Present Perfect Simple

- Passive sentences describe what happens to people or things, often as a result of action by other people or things.
- Passive sentences often indicate that what happens is more important than who is responsible. For example:

Active

Simon has painted the house.

The speaker is talking about Simon and the house.

Passive

The house has been painted.

Only the house is being discussed and not the person who painted it.

FORM

Present	noun/pronoun + is/are	+ past participle
	The cars are	taken abroad.
Past	noun/pronoun + was/were	+ past participle
	The cars were	taken abroad.
Present Perfect	noun/pronoun + has/have been	+ past participle
	The cars have been	taken abroad.

- The rules for choice of tense are the same in the passive as they are for active sentences.

► Exercise 32 for passives in all tenses.

Practice

Rewrite these sentences, putting the verbs in the passive. Keep them in the same tense, and remove they, we, someone, etc.

- 1 We clean the garages every day.

The garages are cleaned every day.

- 2 Someone has given him a lot of money.

He has been given a lot of money.

- 3 The police arrested two hundred people.

Two hundred people were arrested.

- 4 We check every car engine thoroughly.

- 13 They paid me a lot of money to do the job.
.....
- 14 Fortunately, they didn't damage the machinery.
.....
- 15 We send the newspapers to Scotland by train.

32 The passive: all tenses, simple and continuous

FORM

Present	Simple: is/are + past participle The letters are delivered here. Continuous: is/are being + past participle He's being interviewed at the moment.
----------------	--

Past	Simple: was/were + past participle They were sent by train. Continuous: was/were being + past participle My suit was being cleaned at the time.
-------------	--

Present Perfect	Simple: has/have been + past participle All the tickets have been sold. Continuous: -
------------------------	---

Past Perfect	Simple: had been + past participle I was too late: the papers had been removed. Continuous: -
---------------------	---

Future	Simple: will be + past participle You will be met at the station. Continuous: -
---------------	---

Infinitive	(to) be + past participle I don't want to be arrested. We shouldn't be arrested.	Gerund	He doesn't like being told what to do.
-------------------	--	---------------	---

Notes

- The passive is frequently used to describe scientific or mechanical processes, or in formal explanations:
The passive is frequently used ...
- It is not essential to repeat the auxiliary verb to be in a list of processes:
The cars are washed, cleaned, checked, and then driven to the ports.

Practice

32a Underline all the passives.

Acid rain is caused by burning coal or oil. When either fuel is burned, it releases poisonous gases which are carried up into the atmosphere and sometimes transported long distances.

Over 3,000 research projects have been carried out to look into acid rain, and a decision to tackle the problem has been taken in most of the western European countries. Measures have been taken in Scandinavia and in Central Europe to stop the pollution before it is dumped on the environment, and a diplomatic campaign has been launched to convince other countries that the problem has to be considered as a major ecological threat.

'Five years ago this issue was not being treated seriously,' says one leading environmental group, 'but now that damage has been reported in large areas of forest and lakeland, our politicians are being forced to take action. This problem must be solved quickly: if governments do nothing, they will be faced in two or three years' time with the accusation that they have allowed our forests to die.' A major international initiative to combat acid rain is expected in the near future.

32b Rewrite these sentences in the passive. The subject of the active sentence can usually be omitted; you should include it in the passive sentence only if it is necessary.

- 1 Someone's interviewing Dr Johnson at the moment.
Dr Johnson 's being interviewed at the moment.
- 2 You mustn't use this machine after 5.30 p.m.
This machine mustn't be used after 5.30 p.m.

20 We invited two hundred people to the wedding.

Two hundred people

33 to have something done

FORM

subject	+	has/have	+	object	+	past participle
James		has		his car		cleaned every week.

USE

- To describe an action which I (or you, he, she, etc.) arrange but do not do myself:
I had my suit cleaned last week.
She's going to have her house repaired by the Council.

Notes

- All tenses are possible:
I'm having my house painted at the moment. (present continuous)
I've had the car fixed. (present perfect)
I'll have your coat cleaned for you. (future)

- Note the word order. The object goes before the past participle – there is a difference between:
He had his car cleaned. and He had cleaned his car.
- Get can be used in the same way as have:
She's going to get her house repaired by the Council.
- Note the colloquial use:
I had my bag stolen last week.
This is not an arranged action.

Practice

In your notebook, rewrite these sentences using have + object + past participle and changing some words if necessary.

- Someone delivers the newspapers. (We)
We have the newspapers delivered.
- Someone cleaned the carpets every year. (I)
I had the carpets cleaned every year.
- Their house needs painting. (They're going to)
They're going to have their house painted.

- Someone sends the money to my bank account in London. (I)
- My stereo isn't working properly. It needs cleaning. (I'm going to)
- My camera's being repaired at the moment. (I'm)
- He spilt coffee on my jacket so he took it away for cleaning. (He spilt coffee on my jacket so he)
- I think it's time to service the car. (It's time to)
- I don't like the office curtains. It's time to change them. (I think I'll)
- There's something wrong with the typewriter. It needs repairing. (I think I'll)
- We couldn't go to Jack's flat: it was being painted. (We couldn't go to Jack's flat: he)
- The computer's no good: we're changing it. (We)
- I send the films to England: they are processed there. (I)
- I didn't want to eat in the hotel dining-room, so I asked them to send a meal up to my room. (I didn't want to eat in the hotel dining-room, so I)

MISCELLANEOUS

34 wish

- wish can be followed by several different tenses: wish + past simple, wish + past perfect, and wish + would + infinitive.

a) wish + past simple

I wish things were different now.

This expresses an unrealistic desire for the present situation to be different. The desire is unrealistic because there is very little chance of the change occurring.

FORM

subject	+	wish	+	past simple
I		wish		I was rich.
I		wish		I lived in America.
Do you		wish		we lived nearer the school?

Note: This past simple can have a special form with the verb to be: were instead of was (in formal or written English). So we can say:

I wish I were rich. or I wish I was rich.
He wishes he were rich. or He wishes he was rich.

Practice

34a Rewrite these sentences using I wish + past simple.

- 1 I'd love to live in Australia.
I wish I lived in Australia.
- 2 I hate having to go to school on Saturdays.
I wish I didn't have to go to school on Saturdays.
- 3 Why don't we go away more often?
- 4 I'd love to be a film star.
.....
- 5 Why don't we have a bigger house?
.....
- 6 I'd love to speak more languages.
.....
- 7 I'd love to be able to cook.
.....
- 8 Why is the school so expensive?
- 9 I never have enough money: it would be nice to have more.
.....
- 10 I hate having to do homework every night.

b) wish + past perfect

I wish things had been different in the past.

This expresses a desire that an action or event in the past had been different.

FORM

subject + wish + subject + past perfect
I	wish	I	hadn't stolen that money.
I	wish	she	had come to my party.

Practice

34b Rewrite these sentences using I wish + past perfect.

1 I decided to work in London.

I wish I hadn't decided to work in London.

2 We didn't go to Alan's party.

I wish we'd gone to Alan's party.

3 We went to live with my parents in Surrey.

4 I decided to stop working as a bus driver.

5 We put our money into a grocery shop.

6 We borrowed £3,000 to start the business.

.....

7 We didn't realise that a supermarket was opening nearby.

8 The grocery shop closed down.

9 We lost all our money.

10 It was a mistake to leave Manchester.

c) wish + would + infinitive

I wish things would change soon.

This expresses annoyance with a person or situation and a desire for a situation to change, either now or in the future. The change could possibly occur, but we do not expect it to. It generally depends on action from some other person or thing.

FORM

subject + wish + subject + would + infinitive
I	wish	he	would	give up smoking.
I	wish	it	would	stop raining.
I	wish	she	would	be more careful.

I wish it would stop raining.

- would can be shortened to 'd:
I wish she'd be more careful.
- Note the difference between this and the 'd (= had) in the past perfect:
I wish she'd been more careful.

Practice

34c Mr and Mrs Reynolds are worried about their children. Write what they want them to do, using I wish + would.

- John never comes home before twelve o'clock.
I wish John would come home before twelve o'clock.
- Sheila isn't very polite to her grandparents.
I wish Sheila would be more polite to her grandparents.
- Peter doesn't wash very often.
- Susan isn't working very hard for her exams.
.....
- John doesn't help with the housework.
.....
- I'd like Peter to give up smoking.

7 Sheila takes too many days off work.

8 I don't like John playing football all the time.

9 Sheila and Susan are very unkind to Peter.

10 John doesn't wear a tie very often.

Note: if only can be used instead of wish in all three constructions described above. It is stronger and more unrealistic than wish:

If only I was rich.

If only I hadn't stolen that money.

If only it would stop raining.

35 wish

if + was/were/past simple if I was rich.
if Peter got that job.

USE

- To talk about the present when the event in the if-clause is not true:
I could buy a yacht if I was rich. (I'm not rich.)
- To talk about the future when the event in the if-clause is unlikely to happen:
We'd move to Edinburgh if Peter got that job. (I don't think he will get the job.)

Zero conditional

FORM

if + present simple
If I go to bed late,
If you cook vegetables for too long, or present simple
I always feel tired the next day
Vegetables taste awful

present simple
I always feel tired the next day.
they taste awful.

if + present simple
if I go to bed late.
if you cook them for too long.

USE

- To talk about things that always/often/sometimes happen if something else (in the if-clause) happens.

Practice

Write these sentences, putting the verbs in brackets into the correct form and adding 'll/will, or 'd/would if necessary.

- 1 If you give me your phone number, I (call) 'll call you.
- 2 I (drive) 'd drive to work if I had a car.
- 3 If I (lose) my job, I'd go back to university.
- 4 If it (rain) tomorrow, we'll cancel the barbecue.
- 5 Where would you live if you (can) choose?
- 6 If the weather (be) good, we often have lunch outside.
- 7 My mother (worry) about me if I didn't phone her every week.
- 8 If you finish before 5 o'clock, I (come) and pick you up.
- 9 If we (hurry), we'll get to the shops before they close.
- 10 I don't know what she (do) if she couldn't go on working.
- 11 What would you do if he (ask) you to marry him?
- 12 He always (complain) if I'm late.
- 13 If I knew the answer to that question, I (tell) you.
- 14 If you come to the party, you (meet) Jim.
- 15 The students usually work hard if they (have) a test.
- 16 Where will you wait if I (be) delayed?
- 17 If she (speak) more clearly, I could understand her.
- 18 If you (win) a lot of money, what would you do with it?
- 19 If the club (close), where would we go?
- 20 I'll see him at the meeting if he (come)

37 The third conditional

FORM

if + past perfect would/could/might + perfect infinitive
 If I had met you earlier, I wouldn't have married Joe.
 If I'd worked harder, I would have passed the exam.

or would/could/might + perfect infinitive if + past perfect
 I wouldn't have married Jo if I'd met you earlier.
 I would have passed the exam if I'd worked harder.

USE

- The third conditional refers to the past (it is sometimes called the past conditional):
I'd have warned you if I'd seen you last week. (but I didn't see you, so I didn't warn you)
If I'd passed my exams, I would have gone to Art College. (but I didn't pass my exams, so I didn't go to Art College)

Practice

Write these sentences in full, using the words given. Put the verbs into the correct tense.

- 1 What / would / you / done / if / I not / lend / you / the money?
What would you have done if I hadn't lent you the money?
- 2 If / you / asked / me for tickets / I / could / get / you some.
If you had asked me for tickets, I could have got you some.
- 3 I / not / marry / him / if / I / know / what he was like.

- 4 I / not / hire / a car / if / I / know / how expensive it was.

- 5 If / we / got / to the cinema earlier / we / not / miss / the start of the film.

- 6 If / I / be born / a year earlier / I / have to do / military service.

7 If / you / asked / me / I / would lend / you my car.

8 If / I gone / to university / I / get / a better job.

14 We / would go / to his party / if / we / able to / find a baby-sitter.

15 I / visit / you / in hospital / if / I / know / you were there.

.....

38 Words other than if

- Other words can be used instead of if in conditional clauses:
 - a) unless = 'if not':
I'll go home soon if the film doesn't start.
I'll go home soon unless the film starts.
 - b) provided (that), on condition (that), as long as, so long as:
Provided that everybody agrees, we'll have the meeting on Tuesday.
 - c) (just) suppose, supposing (that), what if, imagine:
Just suppose it didn't rain for four months: would we have enough water?

The words are not always interchangeable. Their use depends on the context of the sentence.

Practice

Underline the correct word or words to replace the words in italics in these sentences.

- 1 'I'll give you £100 if you say nothing about this.' (provided that, what if, unless)
- 2 'If your company went bankrupt, what would you do?' (just suppose, on condition, as long as)
- 3 'If you had to live in another country, where would you go?' (on condition, unless, imagine)
- 4 'We'll let him out of prison if he reports to the police station every day. (supposing, as long as, unless)
- 5 'I'll take them to court if they don't pay me what they owe.' (imagine, provided that, unless)
- 6 'If you won a million pounds – what would you do with it?' (providing, as long as, unless, imagine)
- 7 'If they keep to the agreement, I'll give them the money.' (what if, imagine, so long as)
- 8 'You'll be alright if you take some travellers' cheques.' (provided that, imagine, what if)
- 9 'I'll complain to the manager if you don't give me a different room.' (as long as, unless, imagine)
- 10 'If all the hotels were full, were would we stay?' (provided that, as long as, suppose)

39 Sentences containing hidden conditions

- Conditional sentences are sometimes long and complicated, and they are not always fully expressed in conversation – especially where if-event has already been mentioned, or can be understood from the context of the conversation:

'James didn't come to the party.'

'What a pity. I'm sure he would have enjoyed it.'

The second statement depends on the hidden condition 'if he had come':
I'm sure he would have enjoyed it (if he had come).

- Other examples of hidden conditions:
'Be careful, Tom. I wouldn't hurry this decision.' (if I were you)
You should have come. You would have loved it.' (if you had come)

Practice

Underline the clauses containing hidden conditions.

MR ANDERSON: I don't think he should go.

MRS ANDERSON: Why not? He's sixteen, he's old enough. I'm sure he wouldn't do anything stupid.

MR ANDERSON: You know him – he'd get involved in a fight. I don't think he could look after himself. He'd get hurt!

MRS ANDERSON: I'm sure he'd keep out of trouble.

MR ANDERSON: Are you? Well, I'm not. I don't think we should let him go.

MARTHA: I think we should go to Scotland for the holiday. I'm fed up with going abroad and getting sick. We'd enjoy ourselves more in Scotland.

JAMES: Oh, I don't think so. The weather's terrible up there. We wouldn't be able to sunbathe or go swimming. There'd be nothing to do.

MARTHA: We could go walking in the mountains. That would be lovely.

JAMES: Well, I think it would be dangerous. You know what terrible mists they have in Scotland. There are always stories about people getting lost in the mountains.

MARTHA: How about going with a group – the Youth Club, for instance?

JAMES: Oh, you know you'd hate that. You can't stand organized holidays ...

40 Mixed tense conditionals

Although conditionals are usually presented as first, second or third conditionals (► Exercises 36 and 37), the present simple does not always have to go with the future simple, would does not always have to go with the past simple, etc.:

If I'd stayed at school, I would be in university now. (past event with consequences in the present)

If you hear the alarm, get out as fast as you can. (general condition + imperative)

I'll take your plate if you've finished. (future simple often dependent on present perfect event)

If he saw us, he always said hello. (zero conditional in past tense)

Practice

Match the two halves of the sentences.

- 1 If he was happy, ...E.....
 - 2 If you hadn't lost your job,
 - 3 If she didn't lose her temper so quickly,
 - 4 If she doesn't do her work,

- 29 Tell me if there (be) anything wrong.
- 30 The engine starts if you (turn) this key.

► Exercise 54 for a comparison of could, would, and might.

Modals

REMEMBER!

'Modals' are the small verbs like can, must, and might, which give certain meanings to main verbs.

There are twelve modal verbs:

can, could, shall, should, must, ought to, may, might, will, would, need (to), dare

FORM

- Positive is formed by putting the modal between the subject and the main verb.
We should stay.
- Negative is formed by adding not (or n't) after the modal:
We shouldn't stay.
- Questions are formed by changing the position of the modal and the subject:
Should we stay? Shouldn't we stay?

Notes

- need can be needn't (modal form) or don't need to (verb form).
- Negative questions generally use n't. If not is used, there is a different word order:
Shouldn't we leave? Should we not leave?

42 Modals

Check

Circle the correct word.

- 1 This is a no-smoking area. You (mustn't/won't) smoke here.
- 2 (Can/Ought) I help you?
- 3 It's very cold. You (should/will) wear a coat.
- 4 I can go home by train. You (needn't/couldn't) wait for me.
- 5 It's very cloudy. It (might/can) rain.
- 6 (Could/Must) you help me, please?
- 7 It's late. We (ought to/shall) go.
- 8 It's eight o'clock. He (will/dare) be here soon.
- 9 (Would/Shall) I open the door for you?
- 10 She's busy at the moment. She (must/may) be late.

43 can, could, be able to: tense changes

- be able to is sometimes used instead of can:

Present	can or am able to
Past	could or was able to
Future	can or will be able to

Notes

- can indicates future when used with a time word.
- be able to is used in all tenses (have been able to, had been able to, etc.).
- For can't have and couldn't have ► Exercises 52 and 53.
- could and was able to:
I could drive when I was eighteen.
 (= I knew how to.)
I was able to drive to college because my uncle lent me a car for the year.
 (= I knew how to and I did it.)

Practice

In your notebook, write these sentences using the correct form of can, could, or be able to. Where two answers are possible, write them both.

- I see you tomorrow.
I'll be able to see you tomorrow.
I can see you tomorrow.
- It was too expensive – I buy it.
It was too expensive – I couldn't buy it.
It was too expensive – I wasn't able to buy it.
- I have a word with you, please?
- I generally leave work at six, but I leave earlier on Fridays.
- you help me carry this downstairs?
- (she) come to the office tomorrow?
- I tried to see her, but I
- It was so heavy that I lift it.
- I come tomorrow, I'm afraid. I'm too busy.
- (you) contact your parents yesterday?
- He (not) work since his illness.
- After I had tried for a few hours, I open the door and get out.
- I see you next Monday at ten.
- They didn't come to the restaurant – they (not) afford it.
- When they came back from Paris they speak perfect French.

44 must, have to: positive and negative

- must and have to have similar meanings in the positive:
You must leave. (= you can't stay) You have to leave. (= you can't stay)
- must and have to have different meanings in the negative:
You mustn't leave. (= obligation – you can't go)
You don't have to leave. (= no obligation – you can go or stay, as you like)

Notes

- have to is not a modal verb. It is included in this section because it often has the same meaning as must, and is used instead of must in some tenses (► Exercise 45). It forms questions and negatives in the same way as all other main verbs.
- have got to has the same meaning as have to:
I've got to go. = I have to go.

Practice

Match the pairs of sentences which are closest in meaning.

- 1 You have to leave.7....
- 2 You don't have to leave.
- 3 You mustn't leave.
- 4 You mustn't take the money.
- 5 You don't have to take the job.
- 6 You mustn't take the job.
- 7 You must go.1....
- 8 Must you go?
- 9 You don't have to take the money.
- 10 You can stay if you like.
- 11 Don't take the money.
- 12 You have to stay.
- 13 Do you have to go?
- 14 You definitely shouldn't take the job.
- 15 You can decide whether to take the job or not.
- 16 You can take the money or leave it, as you like.

45 must, have to: tense changes

- have to is used instead of must in future and past tenses, and sometimes in the present.

Present	must or have to
Past	— had to
Present Perfect	— have had to
Future	— will have to

Notes

- have to can be used in all tenses.
- must sometimes indicates future when used with a time word:
I must do this tomorrow morning.
- For must have ► Exercises 52 and 53.
- Note the different forms for questions and negatives:
You mustn't leave. You don't have to leave.
Must you leave? Do you have to leave?
- For the difference in meaning between mustn't and don't have to ► Exercise 44.

Practice

Put the correct form of must or have to in these sentences. Use the negative or question if necessary and put have to in the correct tense. In some sentences, two answers are possible.

- 1 I ~~had to~~ leave the party early last night – I wasn't very well.
- 2 I'm sorry, you ~~mustn't~~ smoke in here.
- 3 The children are happy because they do any homework today.
- 4 You get up early tomorrow if you want to catch the bus.
- 5 (you) have a visa to come here?
- 6 It was a very bad accident. You be more careful in future.
- 7 He's been ill. He stay in bed since last month.
- 8 I've told the children that they come home before ten on Saturday nights.
- 9 (you) do military service in your country when you were young?
- 10 It was a lovely holiday. We do anything.
- 11 They were very rude. They apologize the next day.

- 12 The teacher told us that we work harder.
- 13 You get a passport before you go abroad next month.
- 14 We come back by boat because the airport was closed by fog.
- 15 You borrow my books without asking.

46 should, ought to

- should and ought to have similar meanings.
ought to always uses to, should never uses to:
We ought to stay here. We should stay here.
Ought we to go? Should we go?
You shouldn't make a noise in here.
You oughtn't to make a noise in here.

Notes

- should / ought to are not as strong as must / have to:
You must go now! (= you have no choice: go now)
You should go now. (= it's your decision, but if I were you I would go now)
- Note the position of to in ought to:
You ought to go home now.
You oughtn't to go home now.
Oughtn't you to go home now?
- should is used more often than ought to.

Practice

Write the second sentence, using should or ought to and the words given.

- 1 It's past the children's bedtime. (they / be / in bed)
They should be in bed.
They ought to be in bed.
- 2 Can't they see the 'No Smoking' sign? (they / not smoke / in here)
They shouldn't smoke in here.
They oughtn't to smoke in here.
- 3 These windows are dirty. (you / clean them / more often)

- 4 Peter drives too fast. (he / drive / more carefully)

- 5 He owes you a lot of money. (you / not lend him / any more)

- 6 There won't be much food at the party. (we / take something / to eat?)

- 7 I'm not sure what to wear at the wedding. (I / wear / a suit?)
.....
- 8 He says he can get us what we want. (we / pay him / now?)
.....
- 9 The hotel is too expensive. (we/not stay/there)
.....
- 10 It's their wedding anniversary next week. (maybe we / send them / a present)
.....

47 should, ought to, must, have to

- Advice or recommendation: should and ought to have similar meanings (► Exercise 46):
You should tell your father about this problem.
You ought to tell your father about this problem.
 - Indicating a probable future event: should and ought to have similar meanings:
They should be here soon.
They ought to be here soon.
 - In reported speech, should is used instead of shall (► Exercise 62):
I asked if I should open the door.
 - must and have to have similar meanings in the positive, but must is sometimes used to show a position of authority:
Parent to child: 'You must be back by seven o'clock.'
(here, the authority comes from the speaker)
One friend to another: 'You'll have to get up early to catch the morning train.'
(here, the obligation comes from the situation)
- Exercises 52 and 53 for past tenses.

Practice

Put should, ought to, must or have to in the sentences below, using negatives or questions if necessary. Sometimes more than one answer is possible, but you should write one only.

- 1 They ~~should / ought to~~ be arriving in a few hours.
- 2 We ~~have to~~ go home at twelve because my mother wants the car.
- 3 They insisted that we have a meal.
- 4 There are no trains today, so we to go by car.
- 5 I think you tell your parents you're going to be late.
They'll be worried.

- 6 You never do that again!
- 7 The manager suggested that we try to find another hotel.
- 8 You see that film if you get the chance.
- 9 According to our information, the President be re-elected.
- 10 Do you think we ask before we borrow the car?
- 11 You come if you don't want to.
- 12 You be smoking at your age.
- 13 He asked me anxiously what he do next.
- 14 Do you think I tell the teacher what happened?
- 15 My boss told me that I be late.

48 need + infinitive

- Positive:
I need to practise my English.
- Negative:
 - a) don't need to is generally used when the situation does not require something to be done:
You don't need to have a visa to go to France from Britain.
 - b) needn't is generally used when the speaker gives the authority for something not being done:
Teacher to students: 'You needn't do any homework tonight.'
- Questions:
 - a) Do I need to apply for a visa?
 - b) Need I do any homework this weekend?

Note the use of to in the examples.

Practice

Write the correct form of need to complete these sentences.

- 1 The teacher says we needn't go to school tomorrow. (negative)
- 2 Do I need to have a licence to drive a car in this country?
(question)
- 3 I've told her that she to work harder. (positive)
- 4 We take any equipment – the school provides it.
(negative)
- 5 I phone you before I come to see you? (question)
- 6 My mother says I do the washing-up today.
(negative)

- 7 You have more experience before you apply for this job. (positive)
- 8 You can go home now, you stay any longer. (negative)
- 9 You work here to be able to use the tennis court. (negative)
- 10 You say any more: I agree with you. (negative)

49 need as a main verb and need + gerund

- need can be used as a main verb:
I need some petrol.
Do you need anything else?
- need can be used with the gerund, with the same meaning as a passive construction.
My car needs cleaning. (= My car needs to be cleaned.)
Your hair needs washing. (= Your hair needs to be washed.)

Practice

Rewrite these sentences using need with an object or a gerund. It will be necessary to change some words.

- 1 I think it's time for your house to be painted.
Your house needs painting.
- 2 How many people should we have for a full team?
How many people do we need for a full team?
- 3 There's a lot to do. We should have more time.

- 6 Your tyres are very old. It's time to change them.

- 7 How much food should we have for the weekend?

- 8 How much money should we have for the trip?

9 The dog's hungry. It wants to be fed.

10 The baby's dirty. It's time to wash her.

50 need in the past

- Positive:

I needed something to eat.

I needed to rest for a few minutes.

The house needed painting.

- Negative:

a) didn't need to + infinitive

I didn't need to get up early yesterday. (= it wasn't necessary, so I didn't)

b) needn't have + past participle

I needn't have got up early yesterday. (= it wasn't necessary, but I did it, and now I realise that it wasn't necessary)

Practice

Write didn't need to or needn't have and the correct form of the verb to complete these sentences.

- 1 I didn't need to catch (catch) the bus this morning, because Vic gave me a lift.
- 2 I needn't have lent (lend) him that money. I found out later that he had already borrowed all the money he wanted.
- 3 I (do) that homework – the teacher didn't even look at it.
- 4 I (take) a tent, because I knew I could hire one at the campsite.

52 Modals in the past tense

FORM

modal + have + past participle
I	should	have	known. arrived. gone.
He	could
She	may
It	might
We	would
You	must
They	ought to can't

- Positive:
I should have known.
He might have arrived.
They ought to have gone.
- Question:
Should I have known?
Ought they to have gone?
Could he have arrived?
- Negative:
I shouldn't have gone.
He couldn't have known.
They oughtn't to have gone.

Note: have stays the same for all persons (he, she, etc.), as this is the perfect infinitive.
(► Exercise 60).

Practice

Put these sentences into the past, using the perfect infinitive.

53 Modals in the past tense: different meanings

- should and ought to have their normal meaning in the past.
You shouldn't have done that.
You ought to have warned me about him.
- may and might have their normal meaning in the past.
John might have told Mrs Jones what happened.
Sheila may have left two or three days ago.
- could and must in the past are used to indicate deduction. must have is more certain than could have:
Mike could have stayed in this hotel. (= it is possible that he stayed in this hotel)
Mike must have stayed in this hotel. (= it is almost definite that he stayed in this hotel)
- can't have and couldn't have indicate a negative deduction. They are used as the negative for must have:

Mike can't have stayed in this hotel. (= it is almost definite that he didn't stay in this hotel)

- could have = it was possible, but I didn't do it:
I could have left at ten o'clock, but I didn't.

Note: In the present, must be, have to be, could be and can't be can indicate deduction:
He's late – something must be wrong!

- Exercise 45 for had to.
- Exercise 43 for was able to.

Gerunds and infinitives

55 Gerund or infinitive?

REMEMBER!

The gerund

We use the gerund like a noun. We can use it in the following ways:

- As the subject of a verb:
Swimming is very good for you.
- As an object after certain verbs:
Have you finished working?
- After a preposition:
Before leaving the house, she checked all the windows.

The infinitive

We can use the infinitive in the following ways.

- After certain verbs:
I hope to be there before dark.
- To express purpose:
I got up early to do my homework.

Check

Put the verbs in brackets into the gerund or the infinitive.

- 1 I want (finish) work early tonight.
- 2 I hate (wait) for buses in the rain.
- 3 I'm going to the cafe (meet) Alex.
- 4 Sam is really good at (climb).
- 5 I really need (have) a holiday soon.

56 Person + gerund

- In formal English, possessive + gerund can be used:
I have no objection to your arriving late.
We are concerned about the company's trading in oil.
- In conversational English, the possessive is not used: the object form is used instead:
I don't mind him coming late.
We are worried about Jane working so hard.

Practice

Write both the possessive and object form of the words provided.

- 1 I don't like ~~your/you~~ asking him to stay. (you)

 - a) after certain nouns or adjectives (► Exercise 57)
 - b) to express purpose:
I came here to study.
 - c) after it + to be + adjective/noun (► Exercise 58)

- Some verbs (e.g. love, hate, start, prefer) can take gerund or infinitive, with similar meanings:
I love to visit old houses.
I love visiting old houses.
I started to polish the car, but then decided not to.
I started polishing the car, but then decided not to.
- remember, stop, and try have a different meaning with the gerund or the infinitive:
 - a) I remembered to give him the money.
 (= the remembering happened before the giving)
I remembered giving him the money.
 (= the remembering happened after the giving)
 - b) I stopped to watch the carnival.
 (= I stopped because I wanted to watch the carnival)

Reported speech

62 Reported statements: tense changes

- When the main verb of the sentence is in the past tense, the tense in the reported statement is changed.

'I'll talk to Mr Jones.' → He said he'd talk to Mr Jones.
 'I haven't seen anybody.' → She said she hadn't seen anybody.
 'I must go.' → He said he had to go.

- Tense changes when the main verb is past tense:

Speaker's words	Reported statement will	→ would shall	→ should is going to	→ was going to present simple	→ past simple
present continuous	→ past continuous
past continuous	→ past perfect continuous present perfect	} → past perfect past simple must	→ had to can	→ could

- that is optional after the main verb:
 He said that he wasn't going.
 He said he wasn't going.

Practice

Write these sentences in indirect speech.

- 'I'm very tired,' she said.
She said she was very tired.
- 'I'll see them soon,' he said.
He said he would see them soon.
- 'I'm going to the cinema,' she said.

4 'I see the children quite often,' he said.

5 'I'm having a bath,' she said.

18 'I'm trying to listen to the music,' he said.

19 'I'll phone the office from the airport,' she said.

.....

20 'I can't speak any foreign languages,' he said.

.....

63 Reported statements: other changes

- As well as tense changes (► Exercise 62), other words in direct speech need to be changed when they are reported. Here are some examples:

Speaker's words	Reported statement
tomorrow	→ the next day/the following day yesterday	→ the day before here	→ there
this/that	→ the
this morning	→ that morning
today	→ that day
tonight	→ that night
next/on Tuesday	→ the following Tuesday
last Tuesday	→ the previous Tuesday
the day after tomorrow	→ in two days' time ago	→ before/previously

- Note that these changes generally occur, but they are not automatic. They depend on when and where the statement is reported.
- Some verbs do not change:
would → would, could → could, might → might should → should, ought to → ought to

Practice

Write these sentences in indirect speech, changing words where necessary.

- 1 'I'll see you tomorrow,' she said.

She said she'd see me the next day.

13 'They were here three months ago,' he said.

14 'I'm meeting them at four o'clock today,' he said.

.....

15 'I can see you tomorrow,' she said.

.....

64 Reported questions: wh questions

- Most reported questions have a main verb in the past tense. They use the same tense changes and word changes as in reported statements (► Exercises 62 and 63).
- Reported questions change the word order of the original question:
'What's the time?'
She asked what time it was.
(NOT ~~She asked what was the time.~~)
'How's your mother?'
He asked me how my mother was.

15 'Who do you want to talk to?' she said. (asked)

.....

65 Reported questions: if / whether

- if or whether (the choice is optional) is used for reported questions that do not start with wh words (► Exercise 64).
He asked if I was hungry.
Note the word order change:
'Are you angry?' → He asked if I was angry.
'Did you see the film?' → She asked whether I had seen the film.
- Tense changes and other word changes are as shown in Exercises 62 and 63.

Practice

Write these sentences as reported questions. Change you to I, etc. where necessary.

68 Reported requests

- Reported requests (when you are asking someone to do something for you) have the same grammatical form as reported commands (► Exercise 67):
 ‘Would you open the door, please?’
 → She asked me to open the door.
 ‘Could you lend me some money, please?’
 → He asked me to lend him some money.
- Reported requests usually use ask as the main verb. There is an important difference in meaning between:
 He told me to give him some money. and
 He asked me to give him some money.

Note the difference between a reported offer and a reported request.

- a) offer:
 ‘Would you like a cigarette?’
 → He asked if I would like a cigarette.
- b) request:
 ‘Would you pass me a cigarette?’
 → He asked me to pass him a cigarette.

Practice

Write these sentences in indirect speech.

70 Verbs used in reporting

- It is not always necessary to report all the words a person says: some verbs are used to provide a summary instead:
'Oh, dear,' she said, 'I'm terribly sorry I'm late.'
 → She apologized for being late.
'Yes, you're right. I was very foolish', he said.
 → He agreed that he had been very foolish.
- The verbs are followed by the infinitive, gerund, or indirect speech.

Practice

Rewrite these sentences, choosing the correct verb from the box for each sentence and using it with the construction shown. In some cases the verb may replace part of the sentence. Use each verb once only.

Verbs that take the infinitive:
advise, invite, offer, promise, refuse, remind, warn

Verbs that take the gerund:
apologise for, insist on, suggest

Verbs followed by indirect speech:
agree, announce, boast, claim, concede

1 'We're going to get married in June,' she said.

She announced that they were going to get married in June.

2 'Don't go near that dog,' she told him.

3 After the meal, he said, 'Please don't argue – I'm going to pay.'

4 'I'm sorry I didn't write,' she said.

5 'Would you like to come round for dinner on Friday evening?' he asked them.

6 'I think you should give up smoking,' the doctor said to her.

7 'Alright, yes, I was wrong and you were right,' he said.

8 'Yes, I'll write every week,' she said.

9 'Shall I carry that suitcase for you?' she said.

10 'How about going to the theatre on Saturday?' he said.

11 'The newspaper report's not true,' said the Prime Minister.

12 'Don't forget to post that letter,' she said to him.

13 'Yes, it was a difficult exam,' the teacher said.

14 'No, I won't give you a pay rise,' the manager told her.

15 'My parents have got three cars,' she said.

71 Reporting conversations: summarising

- When we report conversations, we do not normally report everything that was said; we select the important parts. This is part of a 'phone conversation between Anne and Sue:

ANNE: Are you doing anything at the weekend?

SUE: No, we're not.

ANNE: Well, would you like to come and stay with us for the weekend? I know you're all in need of a rest.

SUE: Oh, that would be lovely! Thank you very much.

ANNE: Not at all, it will be nice to see you again.

SUE: The only problem is, I haven't told you yet, but we bought a dog last week.

ANNE: A dog! How nice!

SUE: Yes ... we can leave him with Paul's parents.

ANNE: No, no, bring him. I'd love to see him.

SUE: No, I couldn't possibly. He's rather young and playful, and he might start eating your furniture!

ANNE: That doesn't matter, really. You know I like dogs, so do bring him.

SUE: Are you sure?

ANNE: Yes, of course.

SUE: Oh well, in that case I will ...

This is how Sue described the conversation to her husband Paul:

'Anne has invited us to stay with her for the weekend. She thought we needed a rest! I explained that we'd bought a dog and said that we could leave him with your parents, but she insisted that we should bring him.'

Practice

Below is a conversation between Jane and David. Jane later describes the conversation to her husband Peter. In your notebook, write what she said, starting with: 'Oh, I saw David today. He ...'

There are several ways of summarizing the conversation.

JANE My parents are coming this weekend. I don't know what we're going to do with them.

DAVID: Why don't you take them to that new French restaurant in town, 'Le Pain'? It really is good, honestly. Jackie and I went there last week and the food was fantastic. I'm sure your parents would like it.

JANE: Mm, that's a good idea. Do you think they'd let children in there?

DAVID: Oh, I think so. But why don't you leave the kids with us? Jackie and I would be happy to look after them. We're not going anywhere on Saturday night.

JANE: Well, that's very nice of you. Are you really sure that would be OK?

DAVID: Of course I'm sure.

JANE: Well, that's marvellous! We'll bring them round to you at about 7.30. I hope they won't give you any trouble ...

DAVID: Of course they won't. They can try out the new computer.

JANE: Have you got a new computer? Jackie didn't say anything about that ...

DAVID: Do you remember she was applying for a job with the BBC? Well, she got it – and the computer comes with the job.

JANE: She got the job? That's great news!

DAVID: It's supposed to be a secret but everyone will know soon enough.

JANE: Well look, why don't you come round on Sunday for lunch and tell us all about it? My parents will be there but I know they'd love to see you again.

DAVID: OK, that's a lovely idea. We'll come round on Sunday ...

WORD ORDER

72 Direct object and indirect object

REMEMBER!

Some verbs can be followed by two objects: a direct object and an indirect object.

We can use:

- Verb + direct object + to or for + indirect object:
I've lent my book to Michael.
- Verb + indirect object without to or for + direct object:
I've lent Michael my book.

73 Order of adverbs

- An adverb describes how, where or when an action is done:
 - a) She hit him gently.
- The adverb can be one word (e.g. gently) or a group of words – also called an adverbial phrase:
 - b) She hit him with all her strength.
- Both the adverb and the adverbial phrase in these two sentences answer the question How did she hit him?
Answer: a) gently. b) with all her strength.
- Adverbs that answer the question how? are adverbs of manner.
- Adverbs that answer the question where? are adverbs of place.
They work here.
I saw them at the end of the street.
- Adverbs that answer the question when? are adverbs of time.
He left yesterday.
I saw him at four o'clock.
- Order of adverbs:
 - a) Adverbs of manner, place and time usually follow the direct object.
I took the money quietly.
 - b) If there is no direct object, the adverbs usually follow the verb:
We left at ten o'clock.
 - c) If there is more than one adverb, they are usually written:
1 manner 2 place 3 time

	manner	place	time
I worked I worked hard at the office today.	hard	at the office	today.
They ran They ran quickly into the house.	quickly	into the house.
We went We went into the garden at three o'clock.		into the garden	at three o'clock.
They played They played noisily all afternoon.	noisily		all afternoon.

Note: Adverbs of time and place are sometimes found at the beginning of sentences. (This emphasizes the importance of the time or place.)

Yesterday we had a really good time.*

In Paris, we stayed in hotels all the time.*

Practice

Rewrite these sentences in the correct order.

- 1 We had / at the party / a good time / yesterday.

74 Frequency adverbs

- The main frequency adverbs are:

- the adverb goes between the subject and the verb:
He always left the office at five o'clock.
We sometimes saw them in the morning.
I often have an egg for breakfast.
- If the tense uses an auxiliary verb (will, have, be, or do), the adverb comes after the auxiliary, but before the infinitive or participle.
I'll never forget him.
I've frequently seen him in here.
I don't always agree with him.
Do you often come here?
- occasionally, sometimes, often, frequently, normally and generally can follow the verb or the verb + direct object. They can also be at the beginning or end of a clause:
I've seen him frequently in here.
I've seen him in here frequently.
Frequently, I've seen him in here.*

78 Tag questions

FORM

- A tag question is formed by auxiliary + subject:
did she? aren't they? have you?
- Positive sentences are generally followed by a negative tag question:
They went home, didn't they? It's hot, isn't it?
- Negative sentences are generally followed by a positive tag question:
He's not waiting for us, is he? They didn't go home, did they?

Notes

- Note the irregular form of I am when it is a negative tag question:
I'm going with you, aren't I?
- Always use pronouns in tag questions:
Jane's your friend, isn't she? NOT Jane's your friend, isn't Jane?

USE

- Tag questions are often used to open conversations:
It's a lovely day, isn't it?
It's not very warm here, is it?
- They are used when we are expecting the person being questioned to agree with us:
You're coming too, aren't you? Yes, we are.
They're not staying much longer, are they? No, they aren't.

Practice

Rewrite these statements with tag questions.

- 1 It's cold.

It's cold, isn't it?

79 Agreeing with tag questions

- The short answer to a positive statement / negative tag is:
Q: He's leaving soon, isn't he?
A: Yes, he is. (agreeing with the statement) or: No, he isn't. (disagreeing with the statement)
 - The short answer to a negative statement / positive tag is:
Q: He isn't leaving today, is he?
A: No, he isn't. (agreeing with the statement) or: Yes, he is. (disagreeing with the statement)
- Exercise 79 for the form of different short answers.

Practice

Write the correct short answers to agree with these questions.

- 1 'You're not angry, are you?'
'No, I'm not.'
- 2 'They're staying in a hotel, aren't they?'
'Yes, they are.'
- 3 'You said goodbye, didn't you?'
.....
- 4 'She hasn't had a cup of tea, has she?'

.....
- 7 'She's seen this film already, hasn't she?'
.....
- 8 'Mary isn't ill, is she?'
.....
- 9 'You've heard about the meeting, haven't you?'
.....
- 10 'Peter's not coming tonight, is he?'
.....

80 Short answers

- Short answers use the auxiliary, and not the main verb. The answer to:
Did he say that? is
Yes, he did. (NOT ~~Yes, he said.~~)

FORM

Yes/No + subject + auxiliary verb (positive or negative)

Will you be late?	→ Yes, I will.
Has he been waiting long?	→ Yes, he has.
Do you agree?	→ Yes, I do.
Is there anything wrong?	→ No, there isn't.
Are your parents coming?	→ No, they aren't.

Note: Agreement to a negative question is indicated by using No and repeating the negative:
Isn't he coming? → No, he isn't. (► Exercise 78)

Practice

Write short answers for these questions, using the positive or negative as given.

1 'You won't be late today, will you?'	'No, I won't. '
2 'Did they leave early this morning?'	'Yes, they did. '
3 'Have you checked the car?'	'Yes,
4 'Is there any petrol in it?'	'Yes,
5 'Have you been working here long?'	'Yes,
6 'Have you finished your homework yet?'	'No,
7 'Were they angry about what you said?'	'No,
8 'Are they going to see us before they leave?'	'No,
9 'Is he washing the dishes?'	'Yes,
10 'Will you be seeing Jayne tomorrow?'	'No,
11 'Haven't they told you what to do?'	'No,
12 'He isn't going to apologize, is he?'	'No,
13 'They haven't given you any money, have they?'	'No,
14 'Hadn't she told you about Mrs Jameson?'	'No,
15 'This dress is very expensive, isn't it?'	'Yes,
16 'You don't like his parents, do you?'	'No,
17 'He said you were wrong, didn't he?'	'Yes,
18 'You won't forget the meeting, will you?'	'No,
19 'It's Saturday today, isn't it?'	'Yes,
20 'Didn't I talk to you about this yesterday?'	'No,

81 Embedded questions

- Embedded questions are those that are 'hidden' in long questions:
Where's the bank? (normal question)
Could you tell me where the bank is? (embedded question)
- There are two types of embedded question:
 - a) in reported speech:
She asked me where the airport was. (► Exercises 64 to 66)
 - b) in polite question forms, when the direct question is thought to be a little rude, and a longer question form is used:
Could you tell me what time it is, please?
Do you think this train is going to be late?

FORM

- The position of subject and auxiliary verb in the normal question form is reversed:
Where has she gone? → where she has gone.
- A polite question form is now put in front of this new structure.
Could you tell me where she has gone?

- The most commonly used polite question forms are:

Could you tell me Do you know Do you think you could tell me	if whether where how why	something	happened? has happened? will happen? is going to happen? etc.
---	--------------------------------------	-----------	---

Do you think	(that) something	happened? will happen? etc.
--------------	------------------	-----------------------------------

Note: Remember you must say: Could you tell me where she has gone?
(NOT ~~Could you tell me where has she gone?~~)

Practice

Write these sentences in full, using the words given.

- 1 Could you tell me / When does the train leave?

Could you tell me when the train leaves?

- 2 Do you think that / Is it going to rain today?

Do you think that it's going to rain today?

- 3 Do you know if / Has everybody left already?

.....

- 4 Do you think you could tell me / What time is it, please?

.....

.....

- 5 Do you know / Why is there nobody here?

.....

- 6 Could you tell me / Why did you leave so early?

12 Do you think / Will there be another train tonight?

13 Could you tell me / When will you be finished?

.....

14 Do you know / How long will we have to wait?

.....

15 Do you think you could tell me / Where's the post office?

.....

.....

82 think, hope, expect, suppose

- These verbs are often used as answers to embedded questions (and to ordinary questions, too):

'Do you think the train will arrive soon?'

*'Yes, I think so.
(NOT ~~'Yes, I think.'~~)'*

'I hope so.'

'I expect so.'

FORM

Positive: I think / hope / expect / suppose so. Negative: I don't think / expect / suppose so. I hope not.

Note: These constructions can also be used with other persons (you, he, she, they):

*She hopes so.
 They don't think so.
 Do you think so?*

However, the first person (I/we) is more commonly heard.

Practice

Write the short answers according to the words given.

- 1 'Do you think we'll get there before dark?' (Yes / think)

'Yes, I think so.'

- 2 'Will there be something to eat when we get there?' (No / suppose)

'No, I don't suppose so.'

RELATIVE CLAUSES

Defining relative clauses

REMEMBER!

The woman who got the job has never worked in advertising before.

The letter that arrived this morning was wrongly addressed.

- The defining relative clauses tell us which woman we are talking about and which letter we are talking about.
- Defining relative clauses are often indicated by who for people and that for things.

83 Subject and object defining relative clauses

- The noun which is being described by a clause can be either the subject or object of the relative clause:

The man who normally works here is ill.

Main sentence: The man is ill.

Clause: who normally works here.

= he normally works here.

he is the subject, so this a subject relative clause.

The man who you saw yesterday is ill.

Main sentence: The man is ill.

Clause: who you saw yesterday.

= you saw him yesterday.

him is the object, so this is an object relative clause.

Practice

Underline each relative clauses and write S or O to indicate whether it is a subject or object clause.

- The woman who I spoke to wasn't very polite. O
- The machine that worked better than the others cost the least. S
- I wouldn't stay in a hotel that refused to accept children.
- I don't understand people who hate animals.
- The stereo that I bought last week doesn't work properly.
- The television that they have designed is going to be very expensive.
- That man who complained is always making trouble.
- The woman who gave us all this money is not very rich.
- I admire people who can speak more than one language.
- The assistant who you complained about has been moved.

84 Contact clauses (relative clauses without who, that, or which)

- If a clause is an object relative clause and it is defining (► Exercise 85), who, that, or which is not necessary:
 - She's the person who I met at the conference.*
→ She's the person I met at the conference.
 - Have you seen the dress that I've just bought?*
→ Have you seen the dress I've just bought?

Note: This is not possible with subject relative clauses:

The man who was feeling ill left early.

(NOT ~~The man was feeling ill left early.~~)

Practice

Write each pair of sentences as one, without using who, that, or which. Think carefully about the word order.

1 I shouted at a man. He didn't come back again.

The man I shouted at didn't come back again.

2 I dropped a television. It never worked again.

The television I dropped never worked again.

3 I hired a machine. It was broken.

4 She bought some clothes. They were beautiful.

.....

5 They built a wall. It fell down after three weeks.

.....

6 I asked a policeman. He wasn't very helpful.

.....

7 We bought a car. I didn't really like it.

.....

8 I borrowed some money from Janice. I lost it.

.....

9 They sent a new teacher. I really liked her.

.....

10 I sacked a sales assistant. I had a terrible argument with him.

.....

85 whose

- whose is used to indicate possession:

There's the man. His wallet was stolen.

→ There's the man whose wallet was stolen.

Note the difference between whose and who's: who's is never used to indicate possession, but is a contraction of who is or who has:

She's the one who's lending us the money. (who's lending = who is lending)

Practice

Express each pair of sentences as one, using whose or who's.

- 1 There's the lady. Her dog was killed.

There's the lady whose dog was killed.

- 2 That's the man. He's going to buy the company.

That's the man who's going to buy the company.

- 3 He's the person. His car was stolen.

- 4 She's the new doctor. She's coming to the hospital next month.

.....

- 5 She's the journalist. Her article was on the front page of The Times.

.....

.....

- 6 They're the people. Their shop burned down last week.

.....

.....

- 7 That's the sales director. He's leaving in March.

.....

.....

- 8 That's the student. Her parents complained about the school.

.....

.....

- 9 She's the singer. She's just signed a contract with a recording company.

.....

.....

- 10 He's the person. He's going to be promoted.

.....

- 11 I'm the one. My flat was broken into.

.....

- 12 She's the person. She's working for the film studios.

.....

13 That's the architect. She's just won a prize for design.

.....

14 That's the boy. He's just got a place at university.

.....

15 I'm the person. You stayed in my flat.

86 Defining and non-defining relative clauses: recognition

- There are two types of relative clause: defining and non-defining.
- Defining clauses are more common than non-defining clauses:
'I saw that man again.'
'Which man?'
'The man who wants to buy my house.'
who wants to buy my house is an example of a defining clause: it defines (= explains) exactly who or what is being discussed. It can also be used in a longer sentence:
The man who wants to buy my house is coming to see me.
I saw the man who wants to buy my house again.
- Non-defining clauses give information about the subject being discussed, but it is not essential information:
A man, who said he knew my father, asked me for money.
who said he knew my father is an interesting fact but it is extra rather than essential information. Non-defining clauses are indicated by the use of commas before and after the clause.

Notes

- Non-defining clauses are used in writing but are not used frequently in conversation, where two short sentences can be enough:
I'm going to see Sheila, who I told you about yesterday.
I'm going to see Sheila. I told you about her yesterday.
- The difference between defining (D) and non-defining (ND) clauses is important because:
 - a) they can change the meaning of a sentence:
 D: I have two sisters who are living in New York at the moment.
 ND: I have two sisters, who are living in New York at the moment.
 In the defining sentence, the person has two sisters in New York and may have more sisters somewhere else.
 In the non-defining sentence, the person has only two sisters.
 - b) Different relative pronouns (who, that, which, etc.) are used for defining and non-defining clauses (► Exercise 86).

Practice

Write D or ND to indicate whether the clause is defining or non-defining.

- 1 The bus, which arrived late, was full. ND
- 2 The bus which they sent didn't have enough seats. D
- 3 The house which we wanted to buy was too expensive.
- 4 The house, which we wanted to buy, was too expensive.
- 5 I have two brothers who are working as architects at the moment.
- 6 I have two brothers, who are working as architects at the moment.
- 7 I never met the doctor, who lived next door for five years.
- 8 Did I ever tell you about my uncle, who left school when he was 15?
- 9 I didn't agree with the man who said we should cancel the trip.
- 10 She's one of those people who will argue about anything.

87 Relative pronouns in defining and non-defining clauses who, that, or which?

Defining:

	person	thing
Subject	who (or that)	that (or which)
Object	- (or that)	- (or that)

Non-defining:

	person	thing
Subject	, who ... ,	, which ... ,
Object	, who (or whom) ... ,	, which ... ,

Notes

- Words in brackets () are possible alternatives to the words given, but are less common.
- whom is used only in formal English.
- Object relative clauses do not normally need who or that (► Exercise 83)

Practice

Write who, that, which, or nothing to complete these sentences. The boxes above will help you, but do not use the words in brackets.

- 1 Have you got the money ... I lent you yesterday?
- 2 Peter, who, I had seen earlier, wasn't at the party.

- 3 This is the machine cost half a million pounds.
- 4 Mary, had been listening to the conversation, looked angry.
- 5 Have you read the book I gave you?
- 6 The house, they bought three months ago, look lovely.
- 7 Mrs Jackson, had been very ill, died yesterday.
- 8 Is this the person stole your handbag?
- 9 The dog, had been very quiet, suddenly started barking.
- 10 I didn't receive the letters she sent me.
- 11 My mother, had been talking to them earlier, knew that they were in the building.
- 12 The old man,had been injured by the flying stones, was very frightened.
- 14 We didn't like the secretary the agency sent.
- 15 I didn't find the money you said you'd left.

88 which referring to whole sentences

- which in relative clauses generally refers to nouns:
He turned on the television, which looked new and expensive.
which here refers to the television.
- which can also refer to whole sentences:
He turned on the television. I thought this was rather surprising.
He turned on the television, which I thought was rather surprising.

Notes

- which here refers to the action of turning on the television, not just to the television.
- which can be used like this only in non-defining relative clauses (► Exercise 85).

Practice

Express these pairs of sentences as one, using which.

- 1 I love the countryside. That is why I want to go and live there.
I love the countryside, which is why I want to go and live there.
- 2 They stayed for hours. I was very annoyed about this.
They stayed for hours, which I was very annoyed about.
- 3 He passed all his exams. This surprised us.

4 They forgot about my birthday. This was a bit disappointing.

9 The policeman asked me for directions. This confused me a little.

10 The restaurant wouldn't accept cheques. I found this rather surprising.

.....
.....

89 where, when, and why in relative clauses

- where and when can be used to introduce defining and non-defining relative clauses:

We visited the town where I was born. (defining)

I bought them at the supermarket, where I met Mrs Butler. (non-defining)

I saw the film last year, when I was in Paris. (non-defining)

I think that was the time when I lost all my money. (defining)

- Less often, why can also be used to introduce a defining clause: it usually follows a reason or the reason:

There must be a reason why you said that.

Practice

Write where, when, or why to complete these sentences.

- 1 We visited the school where my father taught.
- 2 I met her last month, when she came to our house.
- 3 We all looked at the place the fire had started.
- 4 I met him in the café, he was working as a waiter.
- 5 Do you remember the time Adrian fell off his bicycle?
- 6 Did they tell you the reason they were late?
- 7 The cat sat on the wall, it had a good view of the birds.
- 8 I'm talking about the time they didn't have cars.
- 9 Last year I spent my holiday in Spain, I met Andy.
- 10 I couldn't understand the reason they were so rude.
- 11 I bought them last year, I was in France.
- 12 We went away in August, the children were on holiday from school.
- 13 I never liked the house my husband was born.
- 14 They arrived in the evening, at a time we were all out.
- 15 I listen to music late at night, the children have gone to bed.

Prepositions and phrasal verbs

PREPOSITIONS

90 Prepositions

REMEMBER!

Prepositions can be used to indicate position, movement and time.

Check

Complete the sentences, using a preposition from the box.

on	at	in	out of	off	through round	down	under	under	over

- 1 This picture keeps falling the wall.
- 2 I'm tired. I've been walking the shops all morning.

- 7 Be careful with that case. You might fall the steps.
- 8 Can you help me get my bags the car?
- 9 I can't get this table the door.
- 10 That boat's too tall to go the bridge.

91 Prepositions used in idioms

- Prepositions are sometimes used idiomatically:

I got the job through my uncle.

She's been promoted. She's got two hundred people working under her now.

Practice

Use these prepositions to complete the sentences.

in front of	against	below
behind	against	below
behind	between	above
past	on top of	above

- 1 He doesn't do much work in the house: in fact, he seems to think he's above that sort of thing.
- 2 It's a very good article. There's obviously a lot of research it.
- 3 I work for an organization which campaigns smoking.

- 10 It's terrible: their wages are the national minimum.
- 11 We've never played a Swiss team before.
- 12 The work was difficult at first, but I soon got it.

PHRASAL VERBS

REMEMBER!

Phrasal verbs are formed with a verb + preposition or a verb + adverb:

We need to set off early tomorrow.

Did you find out the times of the trains?

I requested a pay rise but they turned me down.

- A phrasal verb is formed when a preposition (up, down, in, etc.) or an adverb (away, back, etc.) is added to a verb to produce a new verb with a different meaning:

I get up at eight o'clock.

We'll pick you up outside the station.

The plane took off very quickly.

- The meaning of a phrasal verb can be similar to the original verb:
The car slowed down and then stopped. (= similar meaning to slow) – or it can be completely different from the original:
I'm going to give up smoking. (= different meaning from give)
- There are four main types of phrasal verb which are described in Exercises 91 to 94.

92 Some common phrasal verbs blow up	grow up	put off	look after break down	keep on	run out of	give up

find out	let down	set off	wake up
get over	look out	tell off	stand up
go on	look up	turn down	sit down

Practice

Write the above verbs in the correct tenses to complete these sentences. Use each verb once only.

- 1 We'll buy a smaller house when the children have grown up and left home.
- 2 Who's going to the cats when we go away on holiday?
- 3 'Sorry, we flour,' she said. 'We'll have some next week.'
- 4 The computer isn't working – it this morning.
- 5 It was really difficult to this morning after my late night last night.
- 6 I where he lived by checking in the local library.
- 7 It was no problem: we his number in the telephone book.

- 19 He promised to play in the match, but he didn't come. He the whole team.
- 20 The car burned for a few minutes, then the petrol tank with a loud bang.

93 Phrasal verbs that do not take an object

- Some phrasal verbs do not take an object:
The plan fell through: we had to cancel the project.

get by	pass away	sleep in grow up	set off	take off

Practice

Put the above verbs into the correct sentences, using the right tense.

- She had a terrible shock when her father passed away.
- I didn't have to go to work that morning, so I decided to
- How do you with so little money?
- The explorers in the morning, before it was too hot.
- After the children and left, the house seemed empty.
- What time does the plane

94 Separable phrasal verbs that take an object

- We can say:
 We picked up the children at three. or
 We picked the children up at three.

- the direct object can go:
 - before the particle (= preposition or adverb)
 We decided to cut the tree down.
 - after the particle:
 We decided to cut down the tree.
- If the object is a pronoun (him, me, it, etc.) it goes before the particle:
 We decided to cut it down.
 (NOT ~~We cut down it.~~)

Practice

Write these sentences, putting the verbs and objects in the correct order. Where two answers are possible, write them both.

- How do you / slow down / the machine?

How do you slow down the machine?

How do you slow the machine down?

- The company decided to / give away / a hundred pounds.

- I / turned on / the television.

.....

- It's a nice dress: would you like to / try on / it?

5 the government wants to / close down / the factory.

.....

6 It's too wet for football. I think we'll have to / call off / it.

.....

7 I couldn't accept his offer so I / turned down / him.

.....

8 The baby's fallen over: would you / pick up / her?

.....

95 Phrasal verbs that take an object but do not separate

- This type of verb is a unit that is not split by the object:
How are we going to get round this problem?
 (NOT ~~How are we going to get this problem round?~~)

The object must follow the particle.

Practice

Write these sentences, putting the verbs and objects in the correct order.

1 She looks like her mother: don't you think she / her / after / takes?

She looks like her mother: don't you think she takes after her?

2 His wife died. He / her death / over / got / never.

.....

3 She has a small pension. She / off / lives / that.

.....

4 When Pat and John visited their parents, / the children / after / I / looked.

.....

5 I'm sorry, I forgot your sunglasses: you'll have to / them / without / do.

.....
.....

6 I saw Peter today. He / you / after / asked.

.....
.....

96 Phrasal verbs with two particles

- This type of phrasal verb is a unit that does not split:
'I'm not going to put up with this,' he said.

The object follows the second particle.

ran out of	keep on at	look down on come up with	go back on

Practice

Choose one of the above verbs to complete each sentence below.

- 1 I'm afraid we've milk.
- 2 He doesn't like them: I think he people who haven't got any money.
- 3 You can trust her: she never her promises.
- 4 He me until I agreed to go to the party with him.
- 5 She an idea that solved the problem.

97 Summary of phrasal verbs

	Type	Example
1	verb takes no object	The plane takes off at ten.
2	verb takes object: verb can split	I looked up the word in the dictionary. I looked the word up in the dictionary. I looked it up in the dictionary.
3	verb takes object: verb cannot split	I saw John today: he asked after you.
4	verb has two particles: does not split	We've run out of bread.

Notes

- Many verbs are followed by prepositions, but this does not mean that they are phrasal verbs. A phrasal verb has a meaning as a unit. The following are verbs + prepositions:

What do you think about the idea?

Look at these clothes!*

With verbs + prepositions, the direct object always follows the preposition, but the preposition does not have to come immediately after the verb:

We looked carefully at all the clothes.

He thought for some minutes, and with much regret, about his parents.

- Phrasal verbs can sometimes be type 1, or type 2, depending on their meaning:

'Goodbye!' she said, and hung up. (= put the phone down). (type 1)

I hung my coat up behind the door. (type 2)

- If the object (o) contains a large number of words, then the type 2 phrasal verb does not split:

Have you looked up |^o the word were talking about this morning?

98 Deducing phrasal verbs from context

- Sometimes the meaning of a phrasal verb can be understood from the context of the sentence:

It will hurt at first, but the pain will soon wear off.

It is not difficult to guess that wear off means 'to get less and less until it disappears'.

Practice

98a Read this passage and think about the meanings of the missing verbs. Do not write them in yet.

... I was having a terrible time until recently. About a month ago I was feeling really fed up with my job: nothing was going right, and I hated going to work. My boss was always (1) getting at me – ordering me around and telling me I hadn't done things properly: I just couldn't

(2)..... it any longer. I'd even (3)..... the work itself: I used to like it, but I wasn't getting any enjoyment out of it any more. Then one day the boss came in and accused me of (4)..... late for work all the time. I couldn't believe it! I'd only been late once that month and he was always (5)..... halfway through the morning. I asked him where he'd (6)..... this information and he said that one of the secretaries had told him. I said that it just wasn't true and that she must be (7)..... me because she didn't like me. Anyway, I got really annoyed and in the end just (8)....., slamming the door behind me. I (9)..... my resignation and left that day. Well, fortunately things have (10)..... since then. I (11)..... evening classes in photography after leaving my job and met a solicitor there. She (12)..... the idea that I should go and work in her office, so I did! It's much more interesting than the last job so, as it happened, things (13)..... well in the end!

98b Here is a list of verbs with their definitions. Choose the correct phrasal verbs and write them in the correct tenses to complete the passage above.

I turned the corner, and walked down the main street. A couple of minutes later, I heard a noise, and a man wearing a grey leather jacket ran past me. At first, I thought he was trying to catch the bus which was waiting at the bus stop – but then a policeman appeared, running at some speed. He was obviously chasing the man in the leather jacket, and he was joined by another policeman, who was talking rapidly into a hand-held radio.
All three disappeared into a crowd of people, my bus arrived, and I got on. As the bus drove down the road, I saw the man again, walking casually through the crowd with his coat over his shoulder. I could also see the second policeman, still talking into his radio. He was describing a man who no longer existed, a man wearing a jacket and running furiously: while the real criminal (if he was a criminal) walked slowly and casually into the station.

- 18 By 1999, Mr and Mrs Charlton had been living in 17 Portland Street for five years. They had tried to move several times, but this had not been possible, as they were unable to sell their house. Several people had looked at the property, but (had) quickly lost interest – and the reason for this was obvious. For three years the garden of 17 Portland Street had been covered by three feet of water. The Charltons had tried to find the reason for this strange occurrence, but no one had been able to help. The water level had been rising since 1987, and had damaged the whole of the ground floor. The Charltons had been keeping the water back with sandbags, but of course this was only a temporary defence. Mrs Charlton said she had contacted the water authorities, the town council, even her local MP, but no one had been able to explain why their back garden had become a swimming pool for all the children in the neighbourhood.

32a Acid rain is caused by burning coal or oil. When either fuel is burned, it releases poisonous gases which are carried up into the atmosphere and sometimes transported long distances. Over 3,000 research projects have been carried out to look into acid rain, and a decision to tackle the problem has been taken in most of the western European countries. Measures have been taken in Scandinavia and in Central Europe to stop the pollution before it is dumped on the environment: and a diplomatic campaign has been launched to convince other countries that the problem has to be considered as a major ecological threat. 'Five years ago this issue was not being taken seriously,' says one leading environmental group, 'but now that damage has been reported in large areas of forest and lakeland, our politicians are being forced to take action. This problem must be solved quickly: if governments do nothing, they will be faced in two or three years' time with the accusation that they have allowed our forests to die.' A major international initiative to combat acid rain is expected in the near future.

 MR A: I don't think he should go.
 MRS A: Why not? He's sixteen, he's old enough. I'm sure he wouldn't do anything stupid.
 MR A: You know him - he'd get involved in a fight. I don't think he could look after himself. He'd get hurt.
 MRS A: I'm sure he'd keep out of trouble.
 MR A: Are you? Well I'm not. I don't think we should let him go.

 MARTHA: I think we should go to Scotland for the holiday. I'm fed up with going abroad and getting sick. We'd enjoy ourselves more in Scotland.
 JAMES: Oh, I don't think so. The weather's terrible up there. We wouldn't be able to sunbathe or go swimming. There'd be nothing to do.
 MARTHA: We could go walking in the mountains. That would be lovely.
 JAMES: Well I think it would be dangerous. You know what terrible mists they have in Scotland. There are always stories about people getting lost in the mountains.
 MARTHA: How about going with a group - the Youth Club, for instance?
 JAMES: Oh, you know you'd hate that. You can't stand organized holidays.

Grammar Practice for Intermediate Students New Edition

The highly-regarded Grammar Practice series now has four levels, which therefore correspond more closely to your students' ability:

Grammar Practice for Elementary Students

New! Grammar Practice for Pre-Intermediate Students

Grammar Practice for Intermediate Students

Grammar Practice for Upper Intermediate Students

Each level is clearer and more accessible with space for students to write in the book. Illustrations have been added throughout to further aid comprehension. All four levels now have tests.

Grammar Practice for Intermediate Students New Edition sets out all the main areas of English grammar and gives clear explanations of grammar points, followed by practice exercises.

Main features:

- step-by-step grammar explanations with clear examples
- a wealth of varied practice exercises with write-in space on the page

New! • tests to monitor students' progress

- illustrated with lively cartoons to increase students' understanding
- an index and a comprehensive contents list for easy reference
- for self-study, homework or use in class

Grammar Practice for Intermediate Students New Edition is available both with and without the answer key.
